"Hard to be gained, and easy to be lost."

AMBITION causes a secret riot in the soul, which occasions a perplexity of thought, and catches at an imaginary good which always eludes its grasp.—The desire of fame is so much ingrafted in our nature, that we have no one faculty of the mind or organ of the body which does not relish it, although it is an object of desire which is placed out of the possibility of fruition.—For there is no ambitious man who is in the height of his reputation, that is not aspiring to accumulate to his honor. His desire of fame causes him to view with a jealous eye, the man who was once his inferior overtaking him in the paths of honor and preferment, and induces him to set to work every art which malignity can devise, to reduce him to his pristine state, as he thinks his accumulation of merit is a deduction from his. The man whose virtue and talents have elevated him in society is not suffered to remain unmolested in that easy state which conscious rectitude never fails to inspire.—The ambitious mind views with suspicious desire the honor which the worthy man receives, and the high estimation in which he is held by the community, and anticipates with feelings rendered callous by a long course of adherence to this passion, the success of his exertions, aided by every thing which the darkest malevolence can contrive, to wrest from the worthy citizen that portion of respect which he justly merits.—He propagates his ill-natured discoveries with a secret pride, and applauds himself for the singularity and acuteness of his judgment, and hopes by the demolition of the honor of the respectable man, to add to his. Vain hope! Why wilt thou suffer this deluded mortal to pass with impunity? Why not expose him to the eyes of the world, that he may receive that contempt and abhorrence which he merits?

SHAKESPEARE has nobly touched this vice, when he says,

Who steals my purse steals Trash; tis something, nothing;
'Twas mine, 'tis his, and hath been slave to thousands;
But he that filches from me my good name,
Robs me of that which neither riches bring,
Nor makes me poor indeed.

Thus far I think I have exposed the vicious effects of AMBITION in the male, and think it necessary to notice its progress with the female sex. It is rarely the case that you will hear one woman agree that another is handsome, or praise her accomplishments. There is nothing that will sooner incur her displeasure, than to expatiate on the charms of her female rival.—But, on the contrary, condemn her beauty, and you will see with what avidity she 100 Dollars Reward.

RAN-AWAY from the subscribers, at Capt. Wm. Meredith's Tavern, Cumberland county, (Virginia) on the 24th inst. two likely negro fellows, (to wit)

BILLY,

Purchased of Capt. Miller, Saint Mary's county, (Maryland,) about the 20th May last, and probably may wish to make his escape back; he is about six feet two inches high, 21 years old, rather of a yellowish complexion, a large nose, but very flat and low between the eyes, long hair which he generally keeps combed back, a little bow-legged, bold countenance, and generally very polite.—He is an exceeding good dancer and has a very good turn to mimic, both of which amusements he is very apt to indulge himself in when noticed by white persons. He wore away a blue sailor's jacket, striped cotton overalls, a linen shirt and a pair of coarse shoes.

The other named

RALPH,

Purchased of Mr. Joshua Millard, of the above mentioned state and county, near Leonard Town; he is about five feet ten inches high, remarkably well made, about 25 years old, thick lips, the upper of which turns up very much when he smiles; he is very polite in his address and plays exceedingly well on the violin; his clothes were when he went away, a sailor's short striped coat, a brown cloth surcoat, linen overalls, white cloth waistcoat and breeches. They are both artful and cunning and no doubt will change their names and endeavour to get on board some vessel, or go into some of the northern states, in case they should not return to the place where they were purchased.—All masters of vessels are hereby warned harbouring said run-aways, or taking them out of the state at their peril. The above reward, with reasonable expenses, will be paid to any person apprehending and securing them in any jail in this state, and giving six weeks notice in the Virginia Argus, of the place where they are lodged, or FIFTY DOLLARS for either of them.

F. Rabineau,

LIMNER,

Respectfully informs the ladies and gentlemen of the town of Richmond and its vicinity, that he takes LIKENESSES IN MINIATURE—also DEVICES with NATURAL HAIR. He will pay strict attention to those who will please to employ him. They will please to leave their names at Mr. Richardson's, where his work also Beware of a couple of Desperate Assassins.

A Couple of desperadoes are traversing the country, and are making dreadful havoc of the property and lives of old and young. They have already slain more of the inhabitants than were slain in battles and perished in prison ships, during the American war: and, at the same time, they have wasted more substance than would pay the whole national debt. Their strength is invincible. Their method of attack is to strike people on the head, then instantly they trip up their heels, pick their pockets, and continue their blows, on the head, till they have quite beat out their brains. Though they infest public houses chiefly, they are also found lurking in the closets of private houses, in the work-shops of mechanics and in the fields of farmers. In some instances, whole families have fallen victims to these murderers:—nay whole towns have been ravaged and ruined by them. One poor man hereabouts, that had formerly been an industrious thriving mechanic, has very lately been murdered by them in a manner too shocking to relate: and there are several others in the vicinity, who have been daily attacked by them, robbed of their money, smitten on the brain pan, knocked down, and in all respects so violently handled that an alarming stupor has succeeded, and they are already brought to death's door. In a word, the country is in danger from a couple of outlandish miscreants who mock at reason, trample upon the precious rights of man, and equally bid defiance both to law and gospel.

The name of those two ruffians are RUM and BRANDY.

On Thursday the 22d inst. departed this life, in Williamsburg, after a short but severe illness, Mr. GEORGE WASHINGTON HOOMES, second son of Col. JOHN HOOMES of the Bowling-Green, in the 23d year of his age. A disconsolate widow laments the loss of an affectionate husband; an infant son is deprived of a fond and loving father; and a numerous and respectable acquaintance, while they are emulous of those distinguished virtues which rendered him an ornament to society, lament that early decree, which nipt in its bloom so much real worth.

THE subscriber being desirous to remove to the state of Tennessee, will sell that valuable

Tract of LAND,

Whereon he now lives, lying on Twittie's Creek in Charlotte county, containing about 1300 acres. It borders on the Creek about two miles, into which runs four branches in parallel directions, nearly equally distant from each other; on each of these branches are several very excellent springs of good water; there is on the tract, (I suppose) near three hundred acres of low grounds, including a great deal of excellent meadow land, good orchards of all kinds of fruit trees, particularly an Apple orchard of about two hundred trees, mostly Hughes Crabs, that seldom or never fail bearing: The houses are, a good dwelling house, three rooms below and three above stairs, with two brick chimneys and four fire places, with an excellent cellar under the whole, divided into two rooms, a work house of two rooms with a kitchen under it walled with brick, a good brick chimney, with fire places in each room, Meat house, Dairy, two Lumber houses, &c. &c. all in good repair, and covered with featheredge plank. This tract of land might be conveniently divided into two sections.

JOHN ARCHER ROBERTSON,

THROUGH the medium of this paper, informs the public that he has removed to this city to reside, and intends to practise law in the following courts, viz. the court of Appeals, High court of Chancery for Richmond district, District court for the same, Federal circuit and district courts, the county courts of Henrico, Chesterfield and Amelia, and the Hustings court of Richmond: A strict and steady attention to all business confided to him, is promised, and collections made, when required, on the usual commission.

His attendance on the above courts will be regular, and his efforts unremitting to give every satisfaction.

Conveyancing executed in a fair hand and the most technical forms, at a short notice.

Letters of general credit, of recommendation and responsibility for a due execution of official duties, from gentlemen of great respectability and pecuniary resources, can be exhibited if required.

Richmond, July 29, 1802. (2w)

For Sale,

AVAILABLE

Tract of Land,

IN Prince Edward county, lying on Sandy River and contains 713 1-2 acres; there are upwards of one hundred acres of low ground, a small part of which is to clear, and excellent meadows may be had with but little trouble and small expense. There is a good dwelling house with four rooms below and two above, and all necessary out houses. The plantation is under good fences, and in prime order for cropping. The land is well watered, as there are twelve or fifteen good springs on it. A further description is thought unnecessary, as it is presumed no person will purchase without first viewing the land, which will be shown by the subscriber, or Mr. JOHN NASH, living near it. If it is not sold privately before the sixth day of September next, it will on that day be sold to the highest bidder. One half of the purchase money will be required when possession is given, which will be the first day of December next, and a credit of 12 months will be allowed for the other half, the purchaser giving bond and approved security, to carry interest from the date if not punctually paid. MALE NEGROES from 14 to 36 years of age, will be taken in part payment at valuation, or TOBACCO inspected at Richmond, Manchester or Petersburg, at cash price.

FOR SALE,

The Tract of Land

Where I live in Charlotte county, containing between 1000 and 1100 acres, in the fork of Ash-Camp Creek, and Little-Road-Oke river, binding on the river above a mile; about four miles, below the courthouse, having a sufficient quantity of cleared land to work 8 or 10 hands to advantage, under good repair, with a very good dwelling house on it 50 by 36 feet, entirely new, as well as most of the out houses, for a genteel family. There are also on the tract two other separate framed dwelling houses with brick chimneys. It is well watered with good springs and branches, and has some very excellent meadow land, and within a mile of a good grist and saw mill. A good bargain may be had for ready money. To accommodate purchasers it may be divided conveniently. A further description might be deemed superfluous.
